6.2 Liabilities

Liabilities

INSTALLMENT DEBTS WITH LESS THAN 10 PAYMENTS

Accounts with less than 10 payments remaining may be excluded from the DTI if the monthly payment does not exceed 5% of the monthly repayment income. Installment debt may be paid down to 10 months or less of remaining debt.

REVOLVING DEBT

Revolving debts are not eligible for omission from the borrower’s ratios. Revolving Accounts reported on the credit report with no payment must be included in the DTI by using 5% of the balance ; the verified current statement amount due may also be used. If there is no balance, no payment is required to be included in the DTI.

COURT ORDERED DEBTS: CHILD SUPPORT, ALIMONY, GARNISHMENTS, ETC.

Court ordered debts must have the payment included in the total debt ratio unless the applicant has a release of liability from the court/creditor and acceptable evidence is documented. Selected pages from the applicable agreement/court order can be utilized to document the required monthly payment due and the duration of the debt. Court ordered debts with ten or less payments remaining may be excluded if the payment does not exceed 5% of the monthly repayment income.

- For GUS transactions, manually enter the obligation(s) as a monthly liability. A manual entry of this monthly obligation does not require an underwriting recommendation of “Accept” to be downgraded to a “Refer.” Confirm repayment agreements are current. See Derogatory Credit section if court ordered debts are delinquent

STUDENT LOANS

Student loans must be included in ratios as follows: Fixed payment amounts may be used when the payment, interest rate, amortization term is verified as fixed and the fixed payment will fully amortize/pay in full the debt at the end of the term. Non-Fixed payment amounts for deferred loans, Income Based Repayment (IBR), Income contingent (IC), Graduated, Adjustable, and other types of repayment agreements which are not fixed must use the greater of the following: One half (.50) percent of the outstanding loan balance documented on the credit report or creditor verification, or the current documented payment under the approved repayment plan with the creditor.

Student loans in the applicant’s name alone but paid by another party remain the legal responsibility of the applicant. The applicable payment must be included in the monthly debts. • Student loans in a “forgiveness” plan/program remain the legal responsibility of the applicant until they are released of liability from the creditor.

ITEMS PAID OUTSIDE OF CLOSE (POC) WITH A BORROWER’S CREDIT CARD

If the borrower(s) pay for the application fee/closing costs/appraisal with their credit card and the new charges are not reflected in the credit report balance, these debts must be included in the balance and the payment due must be recalculated. The new payment must be used in calculating the DTI.

CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Obligations that are the ex-spouses as evidenced by a divorce decree may not be excluded from the ratios based solely on a divorce decree. Twelve months proof the other party is paying is required.
